Policy Code: EME BLU

Introduction

This Annex is for general public distribution. It covers a Code Blue, which indicates a cardiac arrest and it covers other medical emergencies. These emergencies can be called for residents, staff, visitors, volunteers and suppliers.

Code Blue Residents

A Code Blue indicates cardiac arrest and should only be called by a Registered staff member, or at the direction of a registered staff member.

If a non-registered staff member discovers a resident who is unresponsive and appears to be in cardiac arrest they are to instantly notify the RPN or RN on the floor, who will immediately respond to determine the do not resuscitate (DNR) status of the individual.

Staff are not to start CPR, they are to wait for the RN or RPN who will confirm if there is a DNR order.

A Code Blue should only be announced for a resident at the direction of a registered employee who is familiar with the DNR status of the resident (the registered staff may delegate this task to someone else).

Staff will ascertain the individual's responsiveness by:

- Visual inspection, e.g. movement of chest or nostrils due to breathing etc.;
- Verbal stimulus, e.g. Sir/Madame are you OK, can you hear me etc.;
- Contact stimulus e.g. placing your knuckles into the individual's sternum and pressing firmly while repeating "can you hear me", if there is any clenching or tightening of the muscles or body by the individual they are still breathing, but Registered staff should still be notified.

When the RN or RPN determines that the individual is in cardiac arrest and that they do not have a DNR order they will:

- Registered staff will start and maintain CPR until paramedics arrive,
- Delegate someone to dial 911 and provide our address of 519 King Street West, stating we have an individual in cardiac arrest or VSA (vital signs absent);
- Delegate or announce overhead:
 - "ATTENTION ALL STAFF, CODE BLUE, FLOOR XX, ZONE YY, ROOM ZZ"
3 times
- RN or RPN will call and notify the attending physician after the resident is stable and the situation is under control.

When a Code Blue is announced on the days and afternoon shifts the following staff will immediately respond if they are not already at the scene:

- Registered Nurse (RN) in Charge;
- RN assigned to the floor;
- RPN assigned to that unit;
- PSW assigned to care for that resident (if applicable) or from that unit;
- Nurse Manager assigned to the floor, if available.
